

to purchase an item or the actual cost incurred by the giver in acquiring the gift given to the

The American Revolution was a struggle for independence from British rule. It was fought between 1775 and 1781. The British were defeated at the Battle of Yorktown. The new nation was founded on the principles of liberty, justice, and equality.

of such undue influence, the public employee must disclose in writing "the facts which would otherwise lead to such a conclusion" prior to acting on the matter of interest to the giver. The intent of this restriction is to let the public employee's appointing authority and/or the public